

PHOTOS BY DAVID PERRY | dperry@herald-leader.com

University of Kentucky freshman Drew Schluter, 18, a FUSION volunteer, trimmed bushes Monday outside the MASH (Metro Alternative Shelter House), a safe house for children and youth on West Third Street.

UK'S DAY OF COMMUNITY SERVICE

University of Kentucky freshman Amanda Sauer, 18, cleaned windows Monday at the MASH (Metro Alternative Shelter House) offices and outreach center on West Third Street. FUSION, UK's community service organization, involved more than 1,500 student, faculty and staff volunteers in projects at more than 90 sites on Monday. UK volunteers give more than 5,000 hours of service to Lexington as part of FUSION. It's the largest single-day service project in the state.

